Ms Frances Moreton
Director
War Memorials Trust

LONDON

Dear Ms Moreton

I had the great pleasure of attending the rededication service for the war memorial at Holy Trinity Church Trowbridge on Sunday 13 September.

The monument has been lovingly restored by the same local firm of stone masons that built it in the 1920s and I must say how splendid it now looks having fallen into such a parlous state that few knew it was there. Cleansed and restored, the memorial is now very obvious and, as it is in a busy part of the county town, will be seen by a lot of people every day.

I am conscious that the works would not have been possible without the War Memorials Trust and my purpose in writing is to thank you wholeheartedly for your generosity.

Yours sincerely
